Montevideo 3rd.

President Borda went to see the English cadet Pickering, who is lying wounded in the British Hospital. After chatting with him for a time he gave him ten dollars in case he wanted to buy cigarettes or any other trifles.

The Chief of Police has published an order forbidding the public circulation of the Buenos Aires newspapers which comment on the actual situation here and give false news.

The Commander of the new battalion named "Presidente" has applied for permission to exercise his men by marching them through the streets. The Commanders of the Urban Guard and Prison Guard have obtained permission to exercise their men at target practice.

The Permanent Committee of the Chambers has handed in its report for the seven months it has been in exercise.

Captains Chizzoni and Lopez who were arrested on a charge of attempting to suborn artillery soldiers, have been acquitted and set at liberty by the military tribunal, the Fiscal finding that the charges were not proven.

Yesterday the popular first official of the Prefectura had a narrow escape from an individual who insisted on having a permit to embark for Buenos Aires presenting a Spanish passport not his own. Sr. Diaz saw at once that he was not a Spaniard, and refused the permit. Thereupon Lopez, such is his name, drew a knife and attacked Sr. Diaz. Fortunately the bystanders were able to seize him before he could do any harm, otherwise we should have had another brutal murder for a trivial cause, to add to the long list of such crimes. The constant recurrence of murders of late justifies the theory that there are epidemics of different sorts of crime.

A man named Rivas has been arrested for writing black-mailing letters to young ladies.

Orders have been given for the formation of a corps of military engineers under command of Major Castro, brother of Minister of Fomento.

I have been informed on the best authority that the reports published in various B. Aires papers of a defeat of the forces of Gral. Santos Arribio by Lamas are absolutely false.

The Cretan Knot.

Opinion of the French Government.

Attitude of the Admirals.

The Rebels and the Bashi-Basouks.

Triumphant passage of Rebels.

More Spanish Victories.

Paris, 3rd—In the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon M. Hanotaux declared that according to information received the majority of the Cretans approved of Home Rule for the Island. He furthermore stated that the Powers would send further reinforcements to Crete were they required to pacify the Island. France will, said he, spare no effort in trying to get the reforms in the Administration of Crete carried out.

Argel, 3rd—The Czarevitch continues in bad health, and the physicians in attendance have forbidden H.I.H. to go on his usual excursions.

Canea, 3rd—The insurgents in Aprotori have asked the European Admirals to allow them to leave for the interior of the island.

Vienna, 3rd—Telegrams from Canea say that the Admirals of the combined fleets have allowed the insurgents on the peninsula of Aprotori to retire to the interior of Crete with their arms and baggage.

The Bashi-Basouks, however, oppose this arrangement, and will attack the insurgents if they attempt to avail of it, so fresh bloody fights are expected.

Berlin, 3rd—After a brisk debate, the Reichstag voted to-day in third reading the revocation of the Law against the Jesuits.

Paris, 3rd—The Government was questioned to-day in the Senate as to the political meddling of the clergy, charged by the Socialist Members. The question ended in a vote of confidence in the Government with a rider that the clergy should not be allowed to interfere in politics.

Paris, 3rd—The Deputies passed to-day unanimously a vote of thanks to the Military Governor of Madagascar, General Gallieni, for the way in which he has restored order on the island.

Madrid, 3rd—The latest despatches from Manilla report the rebels flying to the mountains. Telegrams of congratulation are pouring in to the Queen Regent and the Government, and rejoicings are going on in all parts of the country.

Madrid, 3rd—The Spanish cruiser Maria Teresa has left for New York to take part in the fetes on the coming unveiling of the monument to General Grant.

New York, 3rd—The New York Herald publishes the text of an interview between one of its reporters and Maximo Gomez, Commander-in-Chief of the Cuban rebels. The Generalissimo stated that his forces would only openly attack the Spanish troops when certain of victory.

Athens, (3 a.m.)—King George signed a decree prohibiting cyphered telegrams for abroad and the Interior.

Lonon, (3 a.m.)—Reports from Southport state that the sub-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Curzon, in a speech about the Eastern question, praised the integrity of Turkey and said that the present European arrangement is the greatest progress of the times and that it is England's duty to obtain order.

Lisbon, (3 a.m.)—Advices from Borna report that the natives have routBolams in the Portuguese Colonies of Guinea, killing 3 Portuguese officers and several soldiers. Reinforcements have been sent to that place.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after Midnight.)

Athens, 3rd—There was a fight to-day between the Cretan insurgents who tried to leave the Alprotori Peninsula (with the permission of the Admirals) and the Bashi—Basouks, but the former forced their way through.

Constantinople, 3rd—M. Cambon, the French Ambassador here, was informed by the Porte to-night that the Authorities at Tokat are doing all in their power to hunt down the criminals in the recent massacre there. Over 140 arrests have already been made. The Porte hopes that this will satisfy the European Powers of its good intentions.

THE WORLD'S MONEY SUPPLY.

We see by our American exchanges that the Director of the United States Mint has issued his annual report for the year 1896, a most valuable document containing an interesting chapter on the supply of money in the several nations of the world. The report has not yet arrived in the Plate, but from the North American papers we can glean much as to its contents: they take up the figures to show the effect of the suspension of free silver coinage on the contraction or expansion of standard money in the leading countries. In these latitudes that contention may, no doubt, be of general interest, but the figures are of more value to us in a comparison of our circulation of money with that of other nations—a comparison that has not been made in this report and which we shall make for the benefit of our readers.

There are many in our midst who agree that the natural level of gold premium in this country at present should be 200%, on the strength of the argument that $25 gold per head should be the circulation of Argentina, and this ratio would no doubt tally with our paper issue of 300,000,000$ m/n. The tables of the American Mint Report show that the per capita circulation of the U. States has increased within these 24 years from $21 26 to 24 03; the circulation of the United Kingdom from $9 90 to $20 30; the circulation of Germany from $13 59 to 19 26; the circulation of Belgium from $14 44 to $28 49; the circulation of Italy from $4 88 to $38 96; and the circulation of the Netherlands from $16 56 to $24 06. The following table gives the usual figures of per capita circulation in each of the countries of the world for the latest dates for which the figures are accessible.

The table of per capita circulation in 1873 is given only for the United States and the leading European countries, as the data is unreliable in many other cases, and the volume of circulation has been subject to violent fluctuations in some of the less advanced countries, with little regard to commercial or economic conditions. This table of the circulation in these leading countries in 1873 is as follows:—

Country	Gold	Silver	Paper	Total

There has been so much controversy regarding the volume of circulation in the United States that Director Preston has thought proper to present a complete statement of the metallic circulation at the close of each fiscal year, on June 30, from 1873 to the present time, This table shows that, in spite of the charge that silver was demonetized in 1873, the per capita volume of silver in circulation increased from fifteen cents in that year to $9.20 in 1893, and stood in 1896 at $8.81. The gold circulation, which was $3.23 in 1873, rose to $11.76 in 1888, and stood in 1896 at $8.40. This table is as follows:—

Fiscal year ending June 30	Total in Circulation		Per Capita

Eleven years ago, when the circulation of Argentina may be said to have been metalic, as the gold premium was a mere fraction, the ratio of money was more or less $35 m/n per head; to-day with 4,000,000 of inhabitants the issue of paper money is 300,000,000, the paper ratio is $75 per head, and reduced to gold $25 per head. Were we to reckon the money requirements of the republic at the ratio of 1886, the same ratio as in France, we should need $140,000,000 gold—that is to say either our gold premium should be at 100% only, or our paper circulation much larger with gold at present quotations.

THE PORTUGAL'S MAILS.

SEVEN DAYS LATER.

London, March 13th

The Queen left England for the South of France on Wednesday. Preparations for the "Diamond Jubilee" celebration are advancing, and the route of the Royal procession to St. Paul's Cathedral has been published. Her Majesty will return to Buckingham Palace through South London.

The refusal of Greece to withdraw her troops from Crete was notified to her Majesty's Government, as well as to the other Powers, on Tuesday. A large demonstration in Hyde-park on Sunday, and meetings in other parts of the country, have been held to protest against the employment of British forces in the coercion of Greece.

The House of Lords last Thursday gave a second reading to the Lord Chancellor's Land Transfer Bill. On Friday Lord Castletown opened a debate on the Irish Financial question, in which Lord Lansdowne, Lord Farrer, Lord Morris and Lord Spencer also took part. Lord Templetown on Monday moved the second reading of a Women's Franchise Bill, but the previous question was carried on the motion of the Duke of Devonshire. On Tuesday Lord Londonderry obtained a second reading for the Working Men's Dwellings Bill.

In the House of Commons the Cretan crisis has been the subject of questions and statements on every available day. Friday was occupied by discussions, initiated by Sir Charles Dilke and Sir J. Colomb respectively, on the strength of the Navy and the organization of its forces. Discussions in Committee on the Voluntary Schools Bill have taken up the rest of the week.

Sir William Harcourt addressed a Radical demonstration in East London last week, on the Cretan and School questions; and the latter was the subject of a speech by Mr. Asquith on Wednesday. The Association of School Boards has passed a resolution demanding equal treatment for both kinds of elementary schools.

Lord Salisbury spoke on Wednesday at the dinner of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, which were addressed on Tuesday by Mr. Bryce and Mr. Ritchie Mr. Ritchie has also received a deputation on the subject of light dues, and the teaching of Gaelic in Highland schools has been the subject of representations to the Secretary for Scotland.

A conference of Irish members, Unionist and Nationalist, met on Tuesday and appointed—against the wish of the Dillomites—a committee to draw up joint resolutions on the Irish Financial question.

The Post Office Committee has made several recommendations, which the Government have adopted, and which will involve an additional expense of £275,000.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York have completed and published their reply to the Pope's deliverance on the validity of Anglican orders. The New Nonconformist federation, known as the National Council of Evangelical Free Churches, opened its annual session in London on Tuesday.

The behavior of the troops at Mauritius when the Warren Hastings was wrecked has been specially commended by the Queen. We also publish this week a list of conspicuously gallant actions in Rhodesia to which Sir F. Carrington ass officially called attention.

The Mansion-house Fund for Indian Famine relief amounted on Wednesday evening to £411,000. The Queen has sent a second gift of £500.

The South African Inquiry Committee on Friday concluded its examination of Mr. Rhodes, who has since left for the Continent. Messrs. Louw and Venter, two Dutch members of the Cape Parliament, testified on Tuesday to their preference for Company rather than imperial rule, especially on the ground that the latter is not strict enough with the native populations. Sir Graham Bower gave important evidence as to a confidencial statement made to him by Mr. Rhodes before the Jameson raid as to the probability of a rising at Johannesburg.

President Kruger, int he course of a speech at a banquet given in his honour at Bloemfontein, said he had always defended the Queen, and enjoined his people to respect her. He knew that he must abide by the London Convention, but the Queen was "een knaje vrouw"—a difficult woman—and he must act with caution. He hoped one day to see the whole of Africa united.

A deputation of Irish landlords waited upon the Prime Minister yesterday to ask for a Commission of Inquiry into the working of the latest Land Act. Lord Salisbury, in reply, made a remarkable speech. After arguing that they would not obtain much from a Royal Commission, he said it was difficult to find impartial men who would act as Sub-Commissioners and Court Valuers, and he recommended that the proceedings of those Commissioners should be carefully watched, that the full blaze of publicity should be thrown upon them, and that the landlords should make their sufferings known to the English people. The class that did not complain, he declared, was a class that would go to the wall.

The imports of the United Kingdom for February show an increase of £1,768,428, and the exports a decrease of £1,839,413, as compared with February of 1896.

There is a prospect of a conference between Lord Penrhyn and his quarrymen; but negotiation between the engineers and their employers have not lessened the danger of a general lock-out.

Mr. Maxim has failed in his action against the Government for infringing his patent rights by the manufacture of cordite. The proprietor of the "Hunyady Janos" mineral water has obtained an injuction against the Apollinaris Company.

A number of wrecks resulted from last week's heavy gales, a German steamer going down with all hands in sight of New Quay; and three Atlantic cattle steamers report the loss of much live stock during the terrible weather they encountered.

MONTEVIDEO.

April, 2nd.

The strict surveillance of the Oriental authorities at the port sometimes gives rise to amusing incidents. The other day an officer from an American man-of-war was stopped by certain persons, who evidently thought that he would make an excellent soldier or marine guard. His utter ignorance of Spanish saved him from a fine chance to collect damages from the Government, and also saved the Republic from an unfortunate diplomatic incident.

But the most laughable incident was that which happened to Captain Murrayvitch of the Eolo on the occasion of his last trip here. He was going to the mole, dressed in mufti, along with the agents of the Mihanovitch Company. The agents were allowed to pass, but Captain Murrayvitch was stopped. "Where are you going? On board?" "Yes," "Have you a permit." "No". "Then you can't pass here. You must go to the Capitania and get a permit." But I am the Captain of the Eolo". "Well, that's a new dodge and very ingenious, but it won't work here." The officer then called a sailor of the Resguardo and asked him if he knew the Captain. No, he did not know him. "You see, you are not known. You cannot pass." "Will you allow me to call a boatman to give him a message to the Eolo?". "Certainly." The boatman being called amidst the derisive laughter of his fellows who were all enjoying the joke, Captain Murrayvitch said to him: "Go on board the Eolo and tell the head engineer to put out the fires and tell the Commissary to haul down the Blue Peter, (the signal of sailing) The officer then began to think that there might be something serious in the matter, and, with a changed tone, he invited Captain Murrayvitch to accompany him to the Capitania. As they entered, the authorities greeted Murrayvitch: "Hello, Captain, you are off again for Buenos Aires. How are you? and similar expressions. The too vigilant police captain hid his diminished head and after making the necessary excuses departed, a sadder and a wiser man.

For two days past I have sent you no telegrams as there was no news worth wiring. I might have sent all sorts of rumors that are going about in regard to battles in Cerro Largo and a landing of a rebel expedition in Rocha, but as these rumors bore little appearance of truth and were not confirmed I preferred to say nothing. There have been no official bulletins issued, and the heavy rain that was falling did not tempt me to run about in search of special information.

PERU AND THE UNITED STATES.

We have received many garbled accounts with reference to the question which arose between Perú and the United States Government, owing to the imprisonment of several North American sailors for creating a disturbance in the streete of Lima some time ago. The bare facts of the incident and the subsequent diplomatic claims which sprung out of it are briefly as follows:—

It appears that a group of tars created as we have stated a disturbance in Lima by attacking several policemen. A free fight ensued and the disturbers were finally arrested and placed in solitary confinement, there to await their trial and punishment. The Court finally sentenced them to one year's imprisonment. While undergoing this imprisonment the United States Minister at Lima filed a claim to obtain the freedom of these men. Alleging that they had not been examined 24 hours after the disturbance. The Peruvian Minister of Foreign Affairs, later on, held a conference with the United States Representative, and explained the matter to him in its proper light. The Representative did not appear to side with the Minister in his views, and refused to accept the explanation, finally sending an ultimatum acting, of course, on instructions received from headquarters. Meanwhile the tars applied to the Court of Appeal, and this Tribunal has revoked the sentence of the Lower one, sentencing the sailors to four months imprisonment, the date of confinement to count from the 1st of January ult. The same Tribunal has now set the men at liberty, as they had already been imprisoned for over 6 months.

WESTWARD HO!

II.

San Luis is a bright little town, at the foot of the last range of the San Luis hills; hence its inhabitants are known as puntanos. It has a good system of running water, supplied from a reservoir, made by banking up the waters of the arroyo Chorillo in a small valley in the sierras, at about four leagues from the city. A fairly good road has been constructed thither, so that it is the favourite spot for pic-nics and drives. The most wonderful part of the work however is the viaduct which carries the waters over another stream called Las Chacras: the whole length of the canal is 16 kilometres.

When the sky is clear, the first view of the snowy peaks of the Cordilleras can be obtained from the neighbourhood of San Luis; for very little rain falls in the province, and the atmosphere is bright. It is only by dint of irrigation that the agriculture can be carried on.

Within fifteen miles of San Luis is the famous artesian well of Balde, which has cost the nation so much money, but which from a depth of over 1800 feet supplies good drinkable water. And speaking of water, it is a serious question for the railways, as most of the wells give only brackish water, so that the boilers of the engines are soon encrusted with calcareous and mineral deposits. Mr. Hopwood, the locomotive superintendent of the Gran Oeste, has provided an apparatus by which the water in the tank is mixed with certain chemicals, which limit in some degree the pernicious effects of the corrosive substances in solution. Although the chemical formulæ supplied by Professor Kyle may be theoretically right, yet in practice, they are only a palliative and not a perfect cure.

La Paz is the first place of importance which the railway reaches after passing over the Desaguadero, which is the limit between the provinces of San Luis and Mendoza. It has always been an oasis in the desert; for even in the older days of the mules and diligences, it was supplied by water from the Tunuyan river, which irrigated the district and converted a sandy, salty desert into rich squares of alfalfa, bordered by large poplars. Here the "tropas" of cattle gathered from the provinces of Buenos Aires and Cordoba, would rest after crossing the terrible "travesia" between Villa Mercedes and this town, and in the alfalfares obtain sufficient strength to gain in safety the city of Mendoza. Its former occupation has died away with the construction of the railway, but it is a rising town, from the importance given to agriculture.

It is early morning as the combination train rushes through the numerous villages and small towns which extend at short distances all the way from San Martin to Mendoza, and the lovely aspect of the vineyards, alfalfares and fincas is enhanced by the recollection that they are due entirely to industry, as the soil is so arid that without irrigation nothing would grow. And behind them are the purplish steeps of the mighty Cordilleras, with certain peaks glistening white in the rays of the rising sun. It is still early morning when the train rushes down into the city, and passing through the centre of a long avenue adorned with trees, lands us in the station to take one of the numerous carriages which there await the traveller.

Indeed, Mendoza is the cheapest city in the world for cabs. There was formerly a tramway; but it could not hold its own against the cabmen, who are a civil lot of men, ready to give any information they can. A ride anywhere in the city costs 20 cents.

What a contrast with our arrival here twenty years before! Then, weary with the dust and the toil of a five days' journey on mule, we had landed at a primitive inn, bronzed and burnt by the sun and the radiation of the salitrous sands! Now we stepped from a commodious "dormitorio" into a comfortable carriage which rolling over a well paved street soon deposited us at the door of a modern, Parisian like hotel!

Of all the Argentine provincial capitals, Mendoza is the one which has progressed most, and which even in the midst of the actual crisis, has most individual activity and life. Its aspect is most pleasing: a double row of trees down every street, with permanent streams of water; a large central plaza of most magnificent semi-tropical plants, in all the exuberance of their foliage, surrounding the now famous fountain which formerly adorned the Plaza Victoria in Buenos Aires; four smaller plazas, at equal distance from the central one, of which that called "Bobos" is the most fashionable; pleasant houses of modern construction, through whose open doors are obtained pretty vistas of shady, well foliaged patios; one busy artery, the Avenida San Martin, the ancient trees of which are used as advertising posters, on either side of which are numerous well assorted shops; the constant rolling of easy carriages, and a movement of people, bespeaking commercial activity and prosperity.

Of the ruins of the old city destroyed by the earthquake of 1861, only two relics remain: a few columns of the churches of Santo Domingo and of San Agustino; but even these are yearly becoming less. The ground around these churches has been completely built over, chiefly with the stones and bricks of the ancient ruins

The National College is a disgrace to any town. It lies towards the upper part of the city; but it is a ruin of a gigantic scheme, never realized. A short while ago, it was proposed to change the college into the barracks. But the Colonel of the regiment after visiting the edifice, reported that he could not recommend taking his men there, as they would not be 'safe!'

The two Normal Colleges, one for mistresses, the other for professors, are in good working order, especially the former under the able management of Miss Morse.

The cathedral is unworthy of the town, and is in a very incomplete condition, although it is reported that heavy sums have been disbursed on it already; the only other church is an old building, without any pretence of architecture, put up by the Jesuits directly after the earthquake. The London and River Plate Bank have lately opened, under Mr. Deye, a branch which promises to be of great use. In the grounds of the old Provincial Exhibition there is an excellent swimming bath; and adjoining it are the lawn-tennis courts, belonging to the flourishing English Club.

The vintage had just started, as on account of the reported approach of the locusts, most of the large vine-growers had resolved to anticipate the harvest. In one or two of the outlying districts, principally at Guamaillen, hail-storms and locusts had already done some damage. But in general the crop of grapes is very large, and of a fine quality. It was astonishing to see the number of railway waggons despatched every day to Buenos Aires packed full of baskets of grapes. In general, they cost in Mendoza from 7 to 10 cts. a kilo, and sell in Buenos Aires for 50 or 60 cts. By encomienda, a basket of about 15 kilos is delivered in the Capital for $1.20. The wine made here is excellent; but the greater part is sold to large wine merchants of Buenos Aires who use it as the staple of their fabricated wines. The wine sold in Buenos Aires as Mendoza wine is vastly inferior to the poorest class sold in the latter town. A large portion of the wine is also sent to Rosario.

RECORD REIGN DAY.

PROGRAMME OF THE ROYAL PROCESSION.

The following will be the route of the procession of the Queen and the Royal family on the occasion of the visit of her Majesty to St. Paul's Cathedral, on June 22nd next:—Buckingham Palace, Constitution-hill, Piccadilly, St. James's-street, Pall Mall, north side of Trafalgar-square (past the National Gallery), Duncannon-street, Strand, Fleet-street, and Ludgate hill, to St. Paul's Cathedral. After the ceremony the route will be: South side of St. Paul's Churchyard to Cheapside, Mansion House, King William-street, London Bridge, Borough High-street, Borough-road, St. George's-circus, Westminster Bridge-road. Westminster Bridge. Bridge-street, Parliament-street. Whitehall, The Horse Guards, and the Centre Mall to Buckingham Palace.

The Pall Mall Gazette gives some details of Her Majesty's progress through the metropolis which are not contained in the official report. At Temple Bar she will be received by the Lord Mayor, who will hand her the sword of the City, and, if precedents be followed, the Lord Mayor will then head the Queen's carriage on horseback, bareheaded, to St. Paul's. At the Mansion House a loyal address is to be presented by the citizens of London. The return route was arranged as above in view of the wish of the Queen to visit her poorer people in the south of London.

The route is six miles long, and will take over three hours to complete, inclusive of the stoppages at Temple Bar, St. Paul's Cathedral, and the Mansion House. The procession has been found to be about one mile long; this will include all the colonial contingents being sent over to this country. The following is the official list, roughly, of the troops to be employed:—Ten regiments of cavalry will be represented, including the whole of the Household Cavalry and the Scots Greys; the other six regiments will send squadrons, and these will be drawn from Aldershot, Norwich, and Colchester. There will be twenty-five regiments of infantry, including the battalions of the Guards. The other regiments will be brought from Aldershot, Dover, and Woolwich. There will be three batteries of Royal Horse Artillery, a large contingent of Royal Engineers and Army Service Corps, and a force of blue-jackets and Marines.

It is also intended to have representative contingents from all the auxiliary forces at home, including the Yeomanry, Militia, and Volunteers. These will have a special place on each side of The Mall. The Regular troops are alone to be allowed to line the streets outside The Mall. A splendid joint guard of honour of the Household troops and Bluejackets will be mounted at Buckingham Palace, and another joint guard of the same branches of the service will be mounted at St. Paul's Cathedral. It may be stated that the auxiliary forces contingent will be limited to 100 men from each regiment.

The Queen is expected to be back at Buckingham Palace by two o'clock, or a little after. A rough estimate of the number of troops to be employed places the figure at 25,000.

SPORT.

The great boat race of the world has again been run and won, the cable flashing to all parts of the world another Dark Blue victory, the eighth of the series. The telegram unfortunately does not give any particulars as to whether the finish was a tight one or not, a pity, as after last year's sensational 2/5ths length in favour of Oxford it would be interesting to know how much Cambridge was worsted by yesterday. So far Oxford with 30 wins to their account have exactly 8 points to their credit.

NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

Although there is nothing particularly enticing about to-day's card, it should give a very good day's sport all the same, the various events having filled well, with exception of the last. The classic looks a very open thing with neither of the previous classic victors, Balcarce and Devona engaged; it is whispered that the Stud Paris has a brace of flying fillies in trim, but as Pepina looks more than useful, and may have the assistance of 25 de Mayo, who was second to Balcarce, she should go very near. The first issue should lie between Damara and Cristiana, of which we fancy the latter, as she is both speedy and fast. Yanquetru seems to have started under an unlucky star, and may possibly have to play second string to Catanga, though on form he cannot lose. The long distance should be a pretty race indeed, and lies between the top and bottom weights. Tetrarca will take a lot of beating in the sprint, and Esfinge in the Mile, whilst Distinguido should have a very easy thing in the final, which makes our selections read:

Distinguido Stakes—		Damara or Cristiana.
Devona	"	Yanquetru.
Lavalle	"	Pépina or Loncoy.
Policeman	"	Cantiniere or B. Etoile
Ataque	"	Tetrarca.
Orsino	"	Esfinge.
Addio	"	Distinguido.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent).

April 3rd.

The Locust Extinction Commission here has been struck with the brilliant idea of calling a Congress here of all the Locust Commissions in the country, and has sent a long note to the Minister of Public Works on the matter. The Commissioners scout the idea of looking for the breeding place of the locust, and think that the only practical way is to destroy it wherever it makes its appearance. Half of the camp Commissions invited have refused to attend the Congress.

Mr. Tarantet has been named Chief of the Public Credit department.

The Medical Faculty of the new University here has named all its Professors.

The Provincial police have arrested in Quilmes a note-forger who is believed to be the chief of the gaug recently unearthed at Montevideo.

The branch of the Ensenada line to the Mercado de Frutos is finished, also the junction with the Western.

THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

Rarely has the stage of the Politeama witnessed such a grand artistic success as that achieved by Ermete Novelli last night, in Hermann Sudermann's powerful drama "Casa Paterna". The piece is from the German, as will readily be understood by the name of the author, and the action take place in Prussia. Sr. Novelli as Selke, a retired colonel, surprised his warmest admirers, and was perfect in his representation of a man who had been a martinet, and even in his dotage, endeavoured to continue as such. His changes from the old idea of command, to senility were extraordinary and thoroughly stamped him as one of the first actors of the day. He was remarkably well supported by Sras Giannini, Grammatica, Mazini, and Sres Ruggeri and Bonafini.

The re-production of "La Dolores" at the Victoria last night was most successful, and was particularly notable for the debut of two artists, new to this country. Sr. Maristang, is an excellent tenor, and Sr Thos possesses a bass voice of splendid quality. The piece throughout was remarkably well given, many of the solos being encored. The chorus is very good, and in "Viva! Patricio" accompanied by a capital band of mandolines and guitars, was encored. Sra Allu as La Dolores was very good, and the same must be said of Sr. Mirat as Sargento Rojas: The theatre was positively crammed with a most enthusiastic audience, and the piece is likely to draw for some time.

Do not forget the afternoon performance at the San Martin. There is a special treat in store for the little ones.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

"Le roi Cricket est mort" (or at his last gasp) "Vive le roi Football!" The latter Majesty makes his debut in practice form to-day, and Messrs Cricket and Tea make their penultimate appearance. That illustrious Scot Golf is also in the field, and there is the usual Dominical dish of turf, a sod of which from the ill-fated bog of Rathmore now lies on our table as a paperweight. There are a variety of other outdoor attractions in fashionable circles of all nationalities, such as pic-nics, garden parties, excursions, etc. So much for to-day.

The gallant Chief of the Naval Staff was congratulated yesterday all day by his legion of friends on the success of his persistent exertions to save the Santa Fé Destroyer. When he steamed into the Riachuelo on Friday night he was humming to himself a paraphrased version of Russel's famous song "I'm afloat, I'm afloat!"—"She's afloat, She's afloat. The Destroyer will be repaired in Mr. Marjoribank's workshops in the Riachuelo. The report that there was a party of ladies on board when she ran aground is all moonshine. Col. Garcia was the first on the scene of the disaster and for over a week directed night and day the salvage-operations and indeed almost lost his life for he was washed off the deck of the Destroyer and very nearly drowned. We feel great pleasure in adding our own felicitations to those he has already received. Hundreds of people went down to the Boca yesterday to see the Santa Fé.

Mr. Mihanovitch's return from Colonia was welcomed yesterday by the screeching and whistling of all his tugs in port. It was a tremendous concert. All his tugs—about 40—and all his lighters—50 we believe—were decked out with bunting, and thus the Vanderbilt of the Plate was welcomed. Mr. M. is certainly one of the most extraordinary men in the new world, and before he dies he will be one of the richest. for every month sees his business—already immense—increase and develop. His Napoleonic energy and activity. his marvellous volition have enabled him to absorb all the concerns launched with the idea of competing with him and overthrowing him. And to think that he came to this country as a sailor with only one franc in his pocket and that he found to his intense disgust was a false coin! That was in the year 1866. His story reads like a novel and those of our readers who understand Spanish would do well to purchase to-day's Nacion in which, we learn, his extraordinary biography will appear. We shall translate it for our next. Mr. M. wept with joy when the Santa Fe yielded to his tugs. We hear that he will charge nothing for his valuable services, and will send a blank account to Government, so that the Minister himself may estimate the expenses—such as pay to sailors, coal, etc.

The sudden illness and fainting fit of the Gold Eagle was the only local "novelad" yesterday, and as the bird is connected with a number of distinguished Bullish citizens, there was some anxiety as to his condition. The news from Crete was the same old box and dice. England, France and Italy refuse to blockade Greece; and Russia, Germany and Austria are going to try their hand at it. They may prove to have bitten off more than they can chew. There seems no possibility of avoiding war between Greece and Turkey. Our prophetic soul was right yesterday when it prompted us to say that Lord Salisbury's absence in France would argue that affairs were shaping to his satisfaction. He has written to a Paris paper that blamed him for being absent from London at such a crisis, stating that the Cretan question is "settling itself."

Rockets from the Tiempo office flew into the dinner-hour air yesterday and gave daily-bread men pause on their way home. The pyrotechnic racket announced the news that Colonel Lamas had thrashed Muñiz near Treinta y Tres, while he was trying to effect a junction with General Arribio, and not only thrashed him but took him and his staff prisoners in their flight. Lamas's tactics are so masterly that he has also foiled Villar in his effort to join Arribio, so his outmanoeuvred foes are all "in the air", while he and Saraiva have a safe base at Yaguaron. It is said that Arribio's forces are utterly demoralized with their useless forced marches and counter-marches, Borda, if this news be true, may pack his trunks.

The last number of that excellent publication "La Biblioteca" contains an excellent article by our eminent medical friend Dr. Diego Davison on "Music in the Art of Curing," to which we will refer more at length in a day or two. Personally we have no faith in a German brass band or a street organ as an aid to medicine.

President Uriburu, accompanied by Ministers Villanueva, Quirno Costa, and Bermejo, and many legislators, left last night at 10 o'clock from the Once Station in a special train for Dennehy. H.E. returns at 4 p.m. to-day, arriving at the Once at 10 p.m.

The delivery of the Portugal's mails yesterday kept merchants and business men pretty well up to their collars all day. The papers are full of news that throws more side light than telegrams can do on the Cretan question, which now divides with the Diamond Jubilee all public interest in the United Kingdom.

The numerous friends here of Dr. Miguel O'Farrell, the talented son-in-law of Mr. Patrick Ham, who is now completing his studies in Europe, should buy a copy of Thursday's Nacion and read a most interesting letter from Genoa from the clever young "medico". It is too long for our columns, but gave us such pleasure to read that we call attention to it.

A morning contemporary published yesterday a portrait of Volper, the criminal in the vitriol-throwing case, and he appears to be a very unprepossessing individual, having a face like a saw and hatchet combined, and a nose like the ram of a battleship. In his evidence, this nice young man now fully admits that his Uncle Nathan Blitz prompted him to the dastardly deed. His victims are still in a dangerous condition, especially his aunt Mrs. Blitz.

A telegram from Pehuajó yesterday announced that Mr. Capele, a Frenchman, manager of an eight leagues estancia there, was on Friday stabbed and killed by one of his peons. Strange to say, the previous manager, also a Frenchman, and brother-in-law of the victim met exactly the same fate; and stranger still, the former owner of this unlucky estancia, another Frenchman, was also killed by one of the peons. All this goes to show either that Frenchman are very bad estancia managers, or that there is something "uncanny", as our Caledonian friends say. about that which has been the scene of three consecutive murders.

Oh! By all that's wonderful! The British Medical Journal reports the case of a total abstainer who died from "delirium tremens."

The following story appears in a German contemporary:—In the green room of a variety theatre the artists were discussing the first appearance of a very clever imitator of the cries of animals "He's not so wonderful after all, said one of the fair sex; "I have a friend who imitates the singing of a nightingale so perfectly that a poet living in the next house wrote poems in its honour. "That's nothing to what my friend can do," exclaimed the low comedian, anxious to out-do his colleagues, "he imitated the crowing of a cock to such perfection in Nice one night, that even nature was taken in, and the sun began to rise although it was evening."

The ladies of the Red Cross in Montevideo are very kind hearted, and must have lots of cash in their coffers, as they distribute to the wounded soldiers in the hospitals real Havannah cigars: at least so our colleague El Dia says.

Miserable news from Moron. Carbuncle is raging amongst the horned cattle and sheep in the partido, and 300 of the latter have died. Shocking to say, the animals were killed and their skins sold before the Inspectors had time to prevent it. Then again, several of the dead animals have been buried instead of burned, another very dangerous thing, as the camp becomes infected.

A leading colleague expressed an opinion the other day that Uncle Sam was inclined to bully Peru, in the incident of the arrest and trial of some North American sailors who were arrested for brawling in the streets and condemned to a year's imprisonment, the U. S. Minister peremptorily demanding their release. This, it now appears, the Minister did not do; he simply insisted on the immediate trial of the appeal the sailors had lodged against such a sentence as a year's imprisonment for a mere fight with the police. The men have been in jail since January. The first Appeal Court meanwhile, reduced the sentence to four months, and the second has now set the men free, so the diplomatic bobbery is over. So best.

The great Mendelsshon's eldest son, Professor Carl Mendelssohn Bartoldy, has just died in Switzerland aged 59. He was a good amateur musician, but had none of his father's genius, and never took up music as a profession.

The Scotch and Welsh members made things lively in the House of Commons on Friday with their strong protests against the Black Watch and the Royal Welsh Fusiliers being sent to Crete to help the Turks against the Christians. This is claptrap. What the Charles Dickens has the nationality of the regiments to do with the principle of the case? If the Connaught Rangers or the Dirty Half Hundredth had been first on the roll for the repugnant service, Sandy and Taffy would, we doubt not, have protested also. In fact the whole people of the United Kingdom will soon protest if the miserable muddle goes on much longer. Our Uncle Sam has already protested against the blockade, at least he has guessed and calculated that he does n't care a "darn" for it, as it is a gross violation of international law. Some of the London papers beg of the old gentleman to send some of his merchantmen to run the blockade, just to see if the combined fleets would dare to fire on the Stars and Strip. Yes ou may bet your bottom dollar, Sam, that they would n't.

The carrier-pigeon service of the Argentine army appears to be quite up to the mark. On Friday at 6 a.m. eight pigeons were set free from the Dennehy encampment, and they arrived at the Central Military Depot in Plaza Lavalle at 10.30 a.m., having done the distance, 230 kilometres, in four hours and a half, a very fast fly. They must be splendid birds in grand condition. Out of all the citizen soldiers under arms from all parts of the republic, there are only 637 on the sick list; and few, if any, of them serious cases. The only brigade not included in the count is that of Rioja; but it is small and cannot make much difference. It will be seen that the health of the Guards is satisfactory all round.

Hurrah! In spite of the long and bloody struggle in Cuba there are some of its glorious 'weeds' still to be had. With joyful tears in our eyes and a Bahia (by no means a bad imitation of the Cuban article) in our mouth, we publish the following paragraph from an exchange:—"Rumours have been so frequent of late as to the prospective disappearance of the genuine Havana cigar, owing to the devastation caused by the Cuban insurrection, that rich epicures in smoking will be glad to hear what Señor Antonio Lopez, President of the Society of Havana Cigar Manufacturers, has to say on the subject. Señor Lopez frankly admits that the strife in Cuba has done considerable mischief in the Pinar del Rio and Havana districts. He, however, adds that in virtue of the Government decree of May last, which prohibited the exportation of all leaf tobacco grown in the above districts, manufacturers have ample stocks in hand to enable them to tide over a period of scarcity."

William Haney, an engineer of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, has just invented a motor for propelling railway locomotives by means of compressed air. The reservoir, or air retort, which takes the place of a boiler, is charged with compressed air to the extent of 600 lbs. The machine is so constructed that the action of the driver recharges the boiler or air case, compressing the air at the same time. A stock company has just been organized at Lexington, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, to push the enterprise.

We are glad to see our proud and haughty, but patriotic friends, the Dons again in good spirits after their long trials in Cuba and the Phillipines. On Friday night Madrid was illuminated from end to end and top to bottom in rejoicing for the victories of General Polavieja in the Phillipines, where the rebs are now played out, and from Cuba the news is that Maximo Gomez is tired of the game and is thinking of throwing up the sponge. So the wind has at last turned for "la vieja España".

The last issue of La Revue Illustrée is very attractive. The frontispiece, a copy of Van der Straten's beautiful piece of sculpture, "Maternal Love", is admirably done. There is a good portrait of Dr. Caballero, President of the new church Committee at Olivos; views of this suburb and of Montevideo; English Football; portraits of Frank Brown and Signor Lotti, etc. etc. The English section contains a thrilling article on "The Reality of Ghosts", always an interesting subject for a large section of humanity.

FASHIONS AND ACTUALITIES.

In my last correspondence the printers made a confusion between the Louis XV. and Louis XI. periods, so that they have put under the patronage of the latter all the beautiful fancies that Moody has in his store; but I am sure that my readers detected the mistake. Everybody knows Louis XI. through the author of Quentin Durward, and this king had surely other ideas than those of fashions and knick-knacks. Ladies under his reign wore certain hats in form of sugar-loaves, which would now appear to us horribly ridiculous. As for the furs, which are to-day the great rage, Louis XI. permitted only the princesses and the most select members of the aristocracy to wear them. In this era of liberty, such a measure would not be to our taste. I think never were furs more in fashion. I may speak of this subject because, to my certain knowledge, with only the recent slight touch of cold weather from which to judge, great favour will be accorded to furs this winter.

In every show-window, you will find furs. Lombardi, to whom I paid my Autumn visit tells me that some of his clients have already made their choice, and that this year the last "cri Parisien" is the jacket of otter fur, and he has received a beautiful assortment of them.

However, our minister of fashion (Lombardi) is not exclusive, and does not reject, either Sable, Mongolie or even Astrakan. He has received so large a variety of all these furs, that every client will be satisfied and find something to her taste; but he assures me that the otter will this season enjoy all the preference, like English velvet for "trotteur" costumes, light cloths or cashmere for afternoon dresses, and to finish glacées and moirées silks for dinner and evening party toilettes.

I saw at Lombardi's house some beautiful fancy silks and woollen stuffs the designs of which are quite new. They make to-day such charming things, and I defy you to recognize in all these textures in delicate shades of colour, in such ingenious patterns, so silky and soft to the touch, the wool of the poor sheep. However, it is the truth; it is just the same wool that each year the shearer's scissors clip from the back of the Argentine sheep, and which, in parenthesis, gives such a lot of work to the "estanciero" to keep white and soft. Should we be able to know it was wool, when attacked by certain microbes; when it was falling in soiled tufts, becoming thin on the animal's back like an ear of corn grown on a stony soil. Let the estanciero make use of the beneficent balm called the "Nicotine Real" of Messrs Roque Vilella, which is elaborated in the French tobacco factories and immediately the fleece will become a picture of beauty and whiteness.

Oh! dear readers! I think I am very far from fashion! I come back to my subject, and this time it will be for the gentlemen. By this first cold weather they must think of renewing their wardrobes; and I saw at the establishmen "La Moda", Calle Peru, corner Avenida de Mayo, of Messrs. Schwartz and Marolda—to give you every data—an assortment of new cloths for the Autumn season, worthy to attract attention.

Without being very versed in the matter, I knew by my brother that this house is in great favour with fashionable gentlemen, and that the collection of new materials is so complete that it must be the result of a selection among the best goods arrived from Europe! What is not to be disdained, I find the prices very low, and I am sure they will defy all competition.

Now, that I have spoken about fashions for our lords and masters, it is just that I address myself to the mothers, and give them a good piece of advice. The Ciudad de Londres, always provident, has prepared a good assortment of ready made dresses and costumes for our dear little people; and they will find there at very low prices, what everybody must be satisfied with and the children also.

Parisine.

CEYLON TEAS

It is only within the last few years that these Teas have been exported in such quantity as to have any appreciable effect in the London market, but on the arrival of the first important parcels the impression created was very favourable, and the prices ruled higher than those generally realised for a newly imported article. Since then the cultivation has rapidly increased, and the demand being fully sustained. CEYLON TEAS will doubtless prove,

THE TEAS OF THE FUTURE

They, of course, need careful discrimination, but from the FINER grades can be selected rich, juicy teas of great strength and nice aroma, which unlike CHINA and INDIA TEAS

Gold Premium

First Ring.....	197.50
Second Ring.....	195.00

The market is clean off the level keel, drifting down, to the general surprise and bewilderment, breaking up without any one being able to give account of it, the bulls standing by waiting for the turn of the tide before venturing on facing the situation. The impression still prevailing is that the slump is the result of the release of the "pase" gold, but we may safely say that it is put this way for want of any more tangible cause or reason. Some people cling to the belief that there is a something underneath it all, a something of bulk too, kept so very quiet that the market is not in the secret. The bewilderment, therefore, is natural—prices tumbling and rocking, gold flowing on for cash daily as if worked off a tape from an inexhaustible spring, and all this with the commercial crisis looking more jagged, exchange flattening, produce prices weakening and winter heaving up. Can it be that the Rubicon is really now the top-limit for the country, and gold dear always over 300? It must indeed seem so to anybody "sizing" the situation to-day. But somehow the market does not think so, and thus the opinion is that the present fall will only provoke a sharper rise later on. It may seem invidious work deprecating favorable reactions of this kind, but when everything points the other way, and there is not a single reason to show why gold should take such unexpected lines, even the greatest optimists must give pause before accepting as genuine a situation that, if not strained, is at least inexplicable. Meantime gold is on the steep decline and likely to continue so for some time, as the market is being worked, not by speculative date transactions, but by the solid lever of heavy cash deliveries.

Business in gold at the first hour was brisk even for a Saturday, nearly 1¼ million being done for cash and dates. Ready gold was abundant from the start, but somehow the demand was also stiff, so it was not till close on the end of the ring that the price began to crumble. There were heaps of sellers over, and not alone for cash but also for dates, though the pass expanded to 3 points for the end of the month. After the hour 297.20 sellers was quoted and 298 for the 15th. Stocks were quite neglected. nothing at all done in Cedulas. Catalinas were a little weaker and Santa Fé Consols sickly at 38, the lowest point they have touched for some time, though it should be borne in mind that it is ex-coupon, which makes a difference of 1½ point.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

The South end of town may not precisely be the most esthetic side, but it is evidently a good business quarter when the private banks are supplying it with branches, To-morrow the London and River Plate inaugurates its branch there at Montes de Oca 932, with Mr. W. Watson, actually sub-accountant in the central house, as manager, and Mr. W. Ruston as accountant. It is of course a move in the right direction.

According to cables received to-day the following quotations rule for Argentine values in London!—

The sale has been effected of a cargo of linseed, March and April, St. Vincent for orders. 1,500 tons, at 28/10½ and a maize cargo at 18/6, rye terms.

Comandante Loqui arrived over with the ill-fated Santa Fé to-day. He is in command of the Patria and whilst welcoming the gallant Captain we are glad to be able to state that the report published of his vessel having run down a Lussich tug is utterly void of foundation. Comandante Loqui leaves to-night for Colonia to take the Patria into La Plata port.

Circulars were handed round to-day announcing that Messrs Otto Schatz, Saturnino Garcia and Jorge Teofilo Meyer have started as wine merchants at 524 Reconquista. All three partners are ex-employees of the well-known firm of Wipperling and Company.

The treasury of the province of Buenos Ayres receipts for March were $1,055,400 of which $94,142 was for Contribucion Directa, $230,127 for patentes, $412,545 for stamped paper and $53,519 for port receipts.

The prolongation works of the branch of the Southern Railway to General Alvear will be commenced as soon as Mr. Barrow returns from England.

The sick list keeps on growing apace, the tail stretching out daily. Yesterday Messrs Jose Avendono and Company, iron-mongers, wholesale, applied for a moratorium, alleging that of their total capital of $150,000 no less than $94,200 has dissappeared in trade losses, failures etc.

Antonio Sivori, proprietor of the Bolsa Café, has been declared bankrupt.

Messrs Urcullu, Torres and Garcia have solicited a moratoria of one year. Their assets amount to $102,786$^{m}/_{n}$ an dliabilities to $95,632.15.

The estimates published in our last issue of the wool clip and the conclusion therefrom that the clip would show a shortage on last season's are challenged by a leading consignee. The data we may say were from an exporting firm dealing very largely in wool, but the consignee says that it is impossible to suppose there can be any such thing as a shortage in the quantity of wool, though the number of bales may not shew up well owing to the hydraulic presses packing more wool into the bale, say 100 kilos more than formerly. According to all advices from outside it appears that there is still much wool to come in—big piles; from the north, South and West of the province, from the Pampa Central, from the National Territories, Corrientes and Entre Rios. It is not a shortage in the clip therefore that we have to trouble over, but a shocking fall in prices and lack of demand. As things look now, we are facing a probability of carrying over a bigger surplus this year than last, when there were 5000 tons for a nest egg. Prices are getting hopelessly bad. The consignees keep on putting the bar lower and lower, 20 cents to-day, 30 cents to-morrow, but ever without succeeding in provoking the desired spurt in transactions. Everything so deadly slow and flat, wool, sheepskins, hides and cereals, and the week closes with a considerable drop in prices. This would hardly seem to favour a drop in gold, whilst on the other hand the collapse of the gold market has been a very sharp blow to produce.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the second ring to-day:—

The following are the principal assets of the firm of Spinetto and Co. according to balance-sheet presented to the Courts:—Half of the Ituuralde Quinta in Co Martin valued at $75,000; half of the Cabrera quinta in San Martin valued at 10.000; plot of ground in Calle Gauna y Circumvalacion 16,000; plots of grouud Santa Rita valued at 79,200; part of the Basualdo quinta 80,000; ditto of the Palmira quinta in Calle Gauna 35,000; ditto adjoining plot ef ground 10,000; houses in Calles Entre Rios, Victoria and Avenida de Mayo $56,0 0; Mercado Modelo $162,531; ditto Comedia Theatre $187,000; square of ground in Mar del Plata2,000; part of property Calle Lavalle Nos. 1433 and 1437 $40,000.

A correspondent writes us under date February 28th from New York:—

"The latest item of news in connection with the boom in wool to which I recently referred is, according to a Boston paper, the formation of one of the biggest corners in the commodity ever attempted in the U. S.

"A syndicate which has been formed in anticipation of the high duties which are looked for under the impending Tariff Bill intends to sweep with its warehouses all the wool offered in Europe.

"This Syndicate has, it is said, already bought 45,000 bales and has cabled to London $3,000,000 gold in payment of purchases. It is calculated that a million of bales. "Australian and South American will immediately come into possession of the Syndicate".

Our old friend Mr. Ricardo Wendelstadt arrived to-day after a two months trip to Chile, by the German steamer "Adriana" from Valparaíso laden with Malt for the Quilmes Brewery; he looks splendid, 20 years younger.

Advices from Entre Rios report the mortality in the flocks and herds severe from "lombriz" and "tristeza," one estanciero having lost 40,000 sheep in spite of all efforts to cut the disease. The "garrapata" is also giving a lot of trouble.

In another column we publish particulars of the port lands auctions advertised by Messrs. Funes and Lagos, which will be the topic of the market when it comes off, as there is no more disputed question to-day than the value of the reclaimed lands. Some people think they are not worth the $50 per metre fixed as upset price, but the general impression is that at that price they are dirt-cheap and will be worth double a year hence.

The collapse of the gold market in the morning left things so shaky that at the second ring it was little wonder the market should have got out of hand altogether, a regular panic setting in, which throttled the ring and left rates anyhow, one moment sellers at 293 ½ and again buyers at 294 ½. It was a very anxious moment, so much so that brokers were very timorous of burning their fingers with prices as likely to drop to 290 as to rally to 300. The bulls are content to wait over on developments, but they cannot hide a patent uneasiness, whilst the cause of the collapse seems as much a secret as ever. Opening at 296 ⅝, the price weakened off steadily to 294 and closed at 295, whilst subsequently it fluctuated between 292 ½ and 294 ½. to leave off at about 5 o'clock at 293.80. The pass for end of month kept firm at 3 points, but it was noticed that there are few buyers for later dates than end of month. Stocks were quite paralysed.

The weakness in gold has, of course, affected exchange, and rather severely, as the market was immediately swept clean of all bills offering over 48d. and 5.03 francs. These are now the best rates offering, and not much interest to draw either. We quote:—

London—48d.
Paris—5.03-03 ⅛ fcs.
Antwerp—5.05 fcs.
Hamburg—4.10 marks.

The Rio rate is cabled improved at 7 15/16.

In discounts there is not much doing, and rates are easy and unchanged.

It is not surprising though it is decidedly satisfactory to note that the Municipal revenue is improving. If the rate of progression is maintained, by the end of year, the calculated revenue of $14,000,000 will have been improved to the extent of $800,000 or say $200,000 per quarter though we rather think the increase due to new taxes than legitimate expansion. However, as it must be considered that this year's revenue was calculated 2 millions over that of last year, the increase is more appreciable than would seem at first sight.
